

CATHOLIC CAMPUS
MINISTRY

JAMES MADISON UNIVERSITY

December 10, 2011

To Whom It May Concern:

Mr. Steven Hemler has created a catechetical tool for the purpose of apologetics called Catholic Apologetics Institute of North America (CAINA). It is an excellent program designed to empower our youth to engage an increasingly secular world with confident faith. Mr. Hemler presented two programs: Islam and Christianity and Faith and the Big Questions. Both were very well received by the college students at James Madison University, as well as some adult parishioners. The presentations were informative, well presented and very interesting. The presentations provided us with a strong basis for further discussion and faith development.

I highly recommend the Catholic Apologetics Institute of North America for parishes with Youth Ministry, College Campus Ministry or Adult Faith Form programs.

Sincerely,

Rev. Jim Curran
Chaplain, Catholic Campus Ministry
James Madison University

