Catholic Apologetics Institute of North America

To Whom It May Concern:

My name is Steven Hemler and I am president of the Catholic Apologetics Institute of North America (CAINA) and author of The Reality of God: The Layman's Guide to Scientific Evidence for the Creator and Search No More: The Keys to Truth and Happiness, both published by St. Benedict Press and TAN Books. I am also on the Diocese of Arlington Speakers Bureau. My full bio is on the next page.

In support of the New Evangelization, CAINA offers PowerPoint and video-based presentations on apologetics, Islam and Christianity, and Church history for adults and youth at Catholic parishes, schools, campus ministries, conferences, etc. Please see www.cainaweb.org for more information, including several reference letters.

Given our increasingly secular society and the atheistic worldview often promoted by the media and academic/scientific establishment, the need to strengthen the faith of Catholics and equip the faithful to better explain why we believe what we do has never been greater. As Cardinal Timothy Dolan stated while he was President of the USCCB, "We have failed to equip our young people and ourselves with the art of credibly, convincingly, and compellingly defending and presenting our beloved faith. Apologetics prepares us to survive a rational criticism of our faith that is all over the place today. We need it more than ever."

Bishop Robert Barron stated at the Synod on Youth in Rome, "Innumerable surveys and studies over the past ten years have confirmed that young people frequently cite intellectual reasons when asked what has prompted them to leave the Church or lose confidence in it. Chief among these are the convictions that religion is opposed to science or that it cannot stand up to rational scrutiny. What is vitally needed today, as an aspect of the accompaniment of the young, is a renewed apologetics and catechesis. A new apologetics should look deep and long into the question of the relationship between religion and science."

As such, CAINA's two most popular apologetics presentations are God and Science: Where Does the Evidence Lead? and Which is True: Creation, Evolution, or Both? These multimedia presentations present "the rest of the story" on the actual harmony between science and faith, contrary to the prevailing modern myth that they conflict. These apologetics presentations help dispel doubts, strengthen faith, and equip faithful Catholics to share objective reasons for belief in God with family and friends.

Feel free to call or email me at srhemler@yahoo.com if you would like more information or want to discuss scheduling some of CAINA's multimedia presentations at your parish.

Faithfully yours in Christ,

Steven R. Hemler
